

The Ecton View

A large, vibrant yellow sunflower with a detailed brown center is the focal point in the foreground. Behind it, a vast field of similar sunflowers stretches towards a line of dark trees. The sky above is filled with soft, grey clouds, creating a diffused light across the scene.

ECTON VIEW News

September is the month of change, as summer draws to a close, tractors and combines bring in the harvest and tree's will be heralding autumn with their red and orange fireworks, along with the beginning of spring September is a pivotal month of the year.

The autumn equinox arrives around September 22nd, and (if we're lucky) we should see the full 'Harvest Moon' reach its peak illumination September 26th.

Summer holidays are truly over and it's back to school for the kids, where did those six weeks go!

The village BBQ was a tremendous success again, Similar Jones provided the live music, Fat Pheasant grilled the burgers, and Lisa's onions went down well! Always one of the highlights of the village calendar.

September is home to delightfully quirky celebrations like 'International Bacon Day' & 'International Day of Charity' (both on the 5th), Star Trek Day (8th), and the glorious 'International talk like a Pirate Day' (19th).

As you'll read further into the magazine, the village hall is hosting a 'Race Night' this month, which is always well attended and great fun, Pie and peas, and a little flutter, what could go wrong!

Don't forget Ecton Brew Friday September 4th for the best bacon butties, homemade cakes, and freshly brewed coffee around.

This month we are asking for our budding artists in the village to come up with a design for the 2026 Ecton Christmas Card. See page 15 for further details.

Also if you fancy sending us your Desert Island Disc selection please send them to Ectonviewmagazine@outlook.com, all contributions are welcome! Template can be provided if required.

Will there be an Indian summer? Let's hope so!

All Welcome

Rector's Letter September 2026

On Sunday 2nd August a combined choir of 22 voices and a congregation of 42 people gathered at Ecton Church to celebrate Ecton's Patronal Festival with a Choral Evensong. Ecton's patron saint is St Mary Magdalene and with thanks to a grant from the Choral Evensong Trust <https://www.choralevensong.org/uk/> we were able to celebrate after the service with a buffet, wine, soft drinks and celebration cake. It was particularly meaningful to receive the grant from the Choral Evensong Trust, as King Charles, a patron of the Trust, is also one of the patrons of our church. A photograph of the King now hangs in the church.

The choir was a combined choir from Wellingborough and Earls Barton with two members from our own benefice. The Trust's grant not only enabled us to provide the refreshments but to also give a donation of £270.00 to the choirs to be shared between them. A spare celebration cake was also donated to Duke's Court Care Home and was very well received.

This was the first time in many years that a church choir has sung at Ecton and we plan to hold a similar event with the choir again next year on Sunday 1st August 4pm. There will also be two more said Evensongs with hymns on Sunday 7th June 4pm and Sunday 5th July 4pm.

The next celebratory services in our churches will be our Harvests. At these services we will be collecting items for the Wellingborough Food Bank with the following items particularly needed: crackers, jam, pot noodles, mugshots, pasta sauce, any tinned produce. Great Doddington's Harvest service will be on Sunday 20th September 11am with Wilby's on Sunday 27th September 9.30am and Ecton's on 27th September 11am. Everyone is very welcome.

Yours in Christ,

Ecton Educational Grants

As we approach the start of the new school and university years, thoughts turn to the educational needs of our young people.

You may not be aware that Ecton has it's own grant making body which can assist with the cost of these needs. You may be considering music lessons, extra tuition, school/field trips, requirements for books, equipment and stationery or other needs such as uniforms and sports gear. These grants are available to support young people who are resident in the village.

No matter what your needs or circumstances are please contact David Dicks (dandmdicks@btinternet.com) or Nigel Bond (nigelbond@talktalk.net). A simple written request to either of these email addresses will set the ball rolling.

Congratulations to all at the 3 Horseshoes, on being included in the Daily Telegraphs list of top pubs in England in 2026.

The criteria for inclusion – charming character, welcoming staff, rich history and, of course, award-winning beer.

Become a volunteer Puppy Raiser with Guide Dogs

Are you a dog lover? Do you have the time to help raise a life-changing puppy? Would you like to make a difference to someone's life? If you've answered yes to these questions, then this could be the perfect role for you!

As a Puppy Raiser, you'll provide a 6-8 week-old puppy with the vital foundation for its future role as a guide dog. You'll be looking after a puppy for 12-16 months and will guide him or her through training, socialisation, the introduction of new environments and experiences whilst providing a loving home. All food and vet costs are covered along with full training and support and we also have a boarding scheme for when you are away!

There might be the odd chewed slipper here and there but nothing beats the rewarding feeling of loving and raising a puppy which will go on to make an enormous difference to someone living with sight loss.

Puppy Raiser, Kelly, says -

"It's the most rewarding and fulfilling thing I have ever done. I have an enormous sense of worth and pride in my role. There are so many people willing to help. It's a lovely community of Puppy Raisers who want all the dogs to succeed and are always happy to help."

More Than Just Old House Deeds

Do you have a bundle of old deeds tucked away in a drawer or inherited them with an older house? At first glance they may seem little more than faded handwriting and complicated legal language, but they are much more than that, they are historical artefacts, each with its own story.

Unlike today's printed documents, every deed was written individually by hand, usually on parchment made from animal skin. The writing was the work of a professional scribe, while many of the people involved simply made their mark because they could not read or write. Wax seals authenticated the agreement, and witnesses often signed or added their marks on the back.

The word indenture comes from the distinctive indented or wavy top edge. Originally, two copies of the same agreement were written on one sheet before being separated with a jagged cut, rather like two matching pieces of a jigsaw. If ownership was ever disputed, the two halves could be brought together to prove they belonged to the same document.

As I continue researching Ecton's history, I am constantly reminded that these documents are tangible links with the people who built, bought, inherited and lived in our village hundreds of years ago. So, if you have a bundle of old deeds tucked away at home, don't just read the words. Look at the parchment, the handwriting, the seals and the signatures. They all have a story to tell.

Example - Indenture dated 20 September 1636, Between Thomas Childs and James Hensman, both of Ecton - NRO Ref:- E(S)K/11/02

We are holding our Ecton History Meetings every other month, our next meeting will be Wednesday 2nd September, and then 4th November at 7pm in the Skittles Room at The Three Horseshoes. Look forward to seeing you all then.

- David Dicks & Wendy Stephens.

ECTON SAFARI SUPPER

Saturday 7th November

(in aid of Ecton Church)

How does it work? All the guests go on safari, moving from house to house between courses. The evening begins at 7.30pm as we all meet together for a pre-dinner drink and canapés. Everyone then moves to different houses - with different groups of people - for each course. The evening will end with everyone together again for cheese, coffee and port.

Who can take part? Everyone! It's a great way to meet friends and neighbours - particularly if you are new to Ecton.

What do I have to do? We do need people to host a main course or a pudding for 8 people, or to bring a plate of canapés to the pre-dinner drinks house. If you haven't hosted before you'll be extra welcome! It's not a cookery competition - simple food is fine. (There will be a financial contribution for the food and wine).

What does it cost? Tickets are £20 per person (and we will be selling raffle tickets on the night, so please bring some extra pennies with you!).

More questions or to book a place? Call Sally on 07850 416429 or email Carol at carolarmstrong1@gmail.com

Below that, in pink, is: 'Cost is just £12 per ticket for the year Nov to Oct Or £1 per month pro rata if you join after November'. The next line, in black, says: 'FIRST PRIZE £50, SECOND PRIZE £25'. The bottom line, in black, says: 'Proceeds go to Ecton Church'. The entire poster is surrounded by a thick border of colorful, stylized numbers (0-9) in various colors like red, blue, green, yellow, and pink.

Claire 07962 079564

Each month we'll be asking an Ecton resident for their Desert Island Disc selection, September is Sam Fernley

What was the first record you bought?

The first piece of physical media I ever bought was Battleground by The Wanted.

Spending my early years in the mid-late 2000's, actual records weren't something that I was aware of. CD's, iPods and the radio were the only ways I knew you could listen to music.

My first ever record was Crossroads by Eric Clapton. With the ease of streaming music, I'd explored a lot, listening to a large range and developing my own taste. I remember getting this box set of vinyl for Christmas and listening to it for hours in the following weeks. It has some of my favourite songs of all time, and the worn packaging and slightly scratched sound really made an impression on me.

Is there a record or tune that reminds you of a particular time in your life?

Karma Chameleon by Culture Club. I'm not sure how old I was at the time, but when I was younger we went to St Anton at New Year to ski for a couple of years in a row, we used to go with a large group of people; most of them were my dad's university friends and thankfully there were other kids around the same age as my sister and I. There aren't many specifics I remember about these holidays except really enjoying them, but one thing stands out. I think it was the first time I'd ever been to a bar, the Underground. Again, the details are fuzzy but the warmth, laughter and sitting round a table listening to live music...

Favourite female singer and song?

I think Stevie Nicks is my absolute favourite. I love the change in Fleetwood Mac after she joined, and the two albums following that; Fleetwood Mac and Rumours, are two of my favourites and her performance of Silver Springs is one of the most intense I've ever seen.

Favourite male singer and song?

When I was very young my dad introduced me to Michael Jackson and he was definitely my favourite for a while. Over the years it's changed and shifted. NAS, Bob Dylan and Stevie Wonder have all been my favourites at some point. But in the last few years my stand out favourite has been Jimi Hendrix. I love the style and passion that comes just from a guitar and I adore all of Electric Ladyland.

Favourite Band?

Pink Floyd. Their music is very different to what I normally listen to but I love the experimental nature of it and the strange sounds that they managed to create with the limited sound equipment they had access to. For me their standout album is either Meddle or Dark Side of the Moon.

Most played Albums?

I think it has to be Making Movies by Dire Straits. I've only really discovered them in the last few years but I think I must've had that album on nonstop for most of that time. It's so fun and exciting and it's one of the few albums that I readily listen to again and again without any skips.

I will give an honourable mention to the Lord of the Rings Soundtrack, it's another that I come back to regularly and I love almost seeing the films in my mind while listening.

Best Concert attended?

Unfortunately I've not been to many concerts, but the one I remember most is seeing Roger Daltry with my dad in Oxford. It was a pretty amazing experience and he was still so good and energetic.

If you could take one record to the Island, what would it be?

I think the record I would take to the island is Songs in the Key of Life. It's a beautiful record that I could listen to again and again and I think it would definitely keep me entertained.

What book and luxury item would you take?

The book is a more difficult question. I enjoy the Sharpe books, so I'd take the series if that counts.

Though a book I have read several times now and would read again is A Storm of Steel by Ernst Jünger. For my luxury item I'd choose an unlimited supply of Cholula hot sauce, it's delicious and I could make sure that poorly roasted fish over a campfire still tastes nice.

Weeds!

Is this a weed? A beautiful self-seeded sunflower is growing in the parking area as well as other 'weeds'. I am happy with it and there could be more weeds growing, nature is in control but it could be destroyed as many unwanted weeds are on our roadsides, paths and gardens. In the churchyard we try to work with nature's it can be a haven for wildlife. We have made changes with some longer grass areas, less use of chemicals, wild flower areas, nettles, ivy and herbs to encourage insects, butterflies, bees and small mammals. Nature is interconnected and complicated - but wonderful. We hope you visit the churchyard as it is an important space in our village. The graves are important and tended by many.

Please visit us on the first Saturday morning of each month when the church will be open and refreshments available. Anne Henderson
